WEATHER POLICY
11/7/17

Salem Drill Team Weather Policy

The drill team has put in place a weather policy in case of inclement weather conditions.

If any of the local television stations or radio stations announce or broadcast a weather advisory and/or all Evening or Saturday ministry activities at Salem Baptist Church is cancelled due to inclement weather (i.e. bad road conditions, low temperatures) usually drill team related activities may be cancelled unless a decision is made by the drill team director to hold practice.

In any event, when a decision is made as whether to hold or not to hold practice, parents and drill team members will be notified and announcement posted on either Salem Band App, Salem Drill Team Facebook page or on our webpage: www.salemsteppingsaints.com or by telephone. It is very important to check all our social media regarding weather conditions before you leave home.

It is the parent's final decision whether to have your child attend practice during inclement weather conditions. (That includes if practice will be cancelled early due to potential conditions coming later that day.)

We also like to remind everyone to use extreme caution during the winter months when arriving or leaving the drill team development center, as we are always concern for everyone's safety.
